

SPEAKERS' FORUM

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

Sunday 3 June 2007

World Environment Day 3 June 2007

Location	Lake Annand, Cnr Long and Mackenzie Sts, Toowoomba (Wet weather venue: Gabbinbar State School, Cnr Mackenzie and Stenner Sts)
Date	Sunday 3 June 2007
Agenda	As part of the TREC World Environment Day celebrations, AWA is proud to sponsor the speakers' forum. The following speakers will be presenting at the forum. 11.30 am Dr Roger Stone, Climatologist 12.00 noon Steve Posselt, Kayak4earth Expedition 12.30 pm Dr Karey Harrison, Al Gore Climate Change Presenter
Registration Fees	No charge.
Enquiries	Kathy Bourbon Email: awaq@bigpond.net.au For further information on Kayak4Earth or if you would like to be involved in the journey see www.kayak4earth.com .

AWA policy is that the emerging evidence of climate change is convincing, but aspects of the scale and timing of its likely adverse impacts remain uncertain. The water industry must accept that we have to manage in a situation of uncertainty, by being adaptive and flexible, by being resilient through monitoring and learning.

This fits with my personal beliefs. What we need to understand is what is required to be done. We also need to understand that renewable green energy is available now, that it can provide base load power, and that electrical energy can be stored.

It is argued that we need to reduce our carbon emissions by 70% in forty years. There is a campaign started by the bloke in Tathra for 50/50 by 20/20. I have never professed to be a greenie, but I have dropped my footprint by more than 50% already, with no loss of lifestyle. So, it is not that difficult to do it. We just have to want to. At the end of the day, I want to leave the world in as good a state as it was left for me. I hope you share that value. The forum and my trip are about that.

Steve Posselt

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

"Climate Change is melting our Polar Caps"

Sunday 3 June 2007
Lake Annand, Toowoomba 10am - 3.30pm

We have been given responsibility for the fish in the sea, the birds in the air and for every living thing that exists on the face of Earth.

We invite you to participate in this major event being held at Lake Annand on Sunday 3rd June. World Environment Day is an annual event held at Lake Annand in Toowoomba. It has a successful 30 year history. 2007 is looking to be even more popular with increasing public demand on goods, services and information reflecting community concerns and awareness of the environment. We invite you to participate in this major event.

Bike Ride - cycle Sunday leaves from Lindsay St opposite Arthur St at 10am for the Event.

Speakers' Forum Guest speaker's discussing current topical issues will be holding presentations in the Speakers' Forum. This includes Steve Posselt, as he begins his kayaking adventure down the Murray Darling river systems, climatologist Dr Roger Stone and Al Gore Climate Change presenter Dr Karey Harrison.

Stallholder's stalls of organic produce and ranges of ecological lifestyle products will be available.

Displays and workshops There will be displays and workshops from a large variety of environmental groups and organisations.

Goods and services Displays of environmentally friendly goods and services will be featured on the day.

Entertainment will be presented by local popular performers. This will include a great diversity of mainstream, Indigenous and multicultural acts. Included in the lineup is Callum Keys the winner of the Eidecan Youth Music Environmental song award 2006, Activities for children and youth include canoe rides on Lake Annand, hosted by the Toowoomba Bush Walkers, art projects by Play on Play and winner of the Eidecan Youth environmental song award - Callum Keys. Youth band Flash Jack will also perform.

Wet Weather venue is Gabbinbar State School, corner of Mackenzie and Stenner Sts, Toowoomba.

Activism is no longer just for Hippies... join the majority who seek the changes needed in our world

TREC World Environment Day is sponsored by:

Leyburn Organics gardening market stall

www.solarcentre.com.au

Guy Halliday Rain Water Tanks 0421 598814

TOOWOOMBA CITY COUNCIL